

Discover and explore European diversity.

As well as many bygone eras
every country has its own unique culture.

We are looking to exchange and maintain contacts with European craftsmen and women, artists and other cultural events.

We aim to enrich this exchange with trips to places of historical interest and European cultural events.

Ars Vivendi

Association for the promotion, preservation and awareness of historical heritage

Tradition
does not mean to look after the ash,
but to keep the flame alive.
(Jean Jaurès)

Crafts, culture, lifestyle

The association's main vocation is to keep historic craft and cultural heritage alive and to promote it as an experience for everyone.

Our aim is to represent everyday life and the development of work and crafts in the Medieval Era, Renaissance or any other historical era.

We also organise historical festivals and perform cultural ceremonies based on true historical happenings.

Living history and contribution

We understand our vocation in Europe as concentrating on the organisation, execution or support of historical events, cultural festivals, workshop projects, museum revivals and school events in which our craftsmen and women are willing to share and teach their specialised historical skills.

With the support of our members we can produce exceptionally high quality events that are shaped by expertise and a good dose of idealism.

Reference Projects include participation in:
France ("Fetes Historiques" in Vannes)
Netherland ("Vesting Spectaculum" in Bourtange)
Italy ("Mastrogiurato" in Lanciano)
Germany ("Katharinenmarkt" in Hoya and a historical market in Gut Görztz)
And the active support of the "Schlachtezauber" in Bremen.

Ars Vivendi sees itself as representing the interests of members in the exploration of historical life.

Ars Vivendi encourages its members to develop and strengthen their cultural knowledge.

Ars Vivendi develops concepts and advises artists and craftsmen and women in the organisation and implementation of various projects.
